The Yellow-Fever.

NO NEW CASES REPORTED FRIDAY-DEPARTURE OF CHIZENS TO THE COUNTRY-QUARAN-TINE-THE DISEASE NOT EXPECTED TO SPERAD.

MEMPHIS, July 11 .- There have been no new cases of fever to-day, and the panic of sterday has greatly subsided. Everyhing this morning is quiet. The sick members of Judge Ray's family are progressing favorably. No spreading of the disease i anticipated. It is said fully 5,000-people left the city yesterday. Midnight trains of the Louisville and Memphis and Charleston railroads last night were crowdd to suffocation. Both roads sent out double trains, and yet were unable to accommodate all who wished to leave, many being compelled to remain over until to-day. The Little Rock railroad sends out its last train at noon, the authorities of that city eving notified the railroad officials that trains leaving Memphis after that hour.

.. One thing bear in mind-all the people of Memphis cannot get away on one train. The talk about stopping trains is sensational and foolish. If it becomes necessary to evacuate the city to save it, 5.000 of the bravest men that ever followed a flag will much regard for the intelligence, the humanity, and the friendly feeling of the people living along the railroad lines to think that they would interfere with the running of the trains. We apprehend no trouble weeks to come."

ONLY TWO CASES IN MEMPHIS. J. E. R. Ray, Judge of the Criminal Court of Shelby county, and a son, aged twentythree, are the only sick persons now being treated for yellow-fever. Judge Ray's residence is in the outskirts, fully a mile distant from the heart of the city. It is thought that the death last night and the sickness of Judge Ray's family are but sporadic cases. Yet such is the dread that people have of the saffron scourge that nothing but death can prevent them from flying at the first alarm. from a sanitary view the city was never in better condition than now. For months the authorities have used every energy to leanse the streets and alleys, and every one was congratulating himself on the healthy outlook when the death of last night came like a thunderbolt from the sky on a clear day. From 7 o'clock this morning Main street has been one great throng of excited at Key West. people. Toward nightfall a feeling of contidence was experienced by many, especially when it became known that of the live new cases reported to-day but two were genume yellow-fever. It has just been announced that Norfolk, Va., and Holly Springs, Miss., have quarantined against Memphis.

BOARD-OF-HEALTH WARNINGS.

Of the five new cases reported to the Board of Health, upon examination by the president, Dr. G. B. Thornton, three of hese were declared other diseases than yelow-fever. The other two-Maurice B. Tostreet-were reported by Dr. G. B. Henning. Tobin died yesterday, but experts say it was not of yellow-fever, neither has is wife the fever. Dr. Henning, after giving wide circula-

The third case thrown out was that of Mr. Boison, who resides at the corner of Second and Keel streets, in Chelsea. Mr. now so far convalescent that his physician discharged him on the 9th instant. Yet this was one of the five cases reported to the Board of Health.

WASHINGTON, July 11 .- Dr. Hamilton, the Supervising Surgeon-General of the Marine spital Service, has received advices from Port-au-Prince that yellow-fever has so far thated that clean bills of health are now being issued. No clean bills have been isued before for three months.

Dr. Hamilton has not received any reorts from Memphis or any other points in he South in relation to yellow-fever havby broken out there, and does not apprelear. He thinks there may be sporadic ter. cases of yellow-fever, but considers that precautions taken will prevent any spread of the disease. The negro exodus may carry considerable infected baggage ato Missouri and Kansas, and thus cause ome cases of yellow-fever in those States.

establishment of the quarantine was refused. The apprehensions awakened were quickened by the publication on the 26th of July of the fact that the vellow-fever had made its appearance in New Orleans, and threatened to become epidemic. So soon as this news was verified the city authorities consented to the establishment of a quarantine. Dr. Erskine, the city health-officer, at once established quarantine stations on the Memphis and Charleston railroad six miles from the city, on the Mississippi and Tennessee railroad twelve miles from the city, and on the river at the southern point of President's island. The uneasy feeling of the people, however, was aggravated by the announcement on the 2d of August of a case of yellow-fever at the City Hospital, which terminated fatally the next day, and by the dispatches from New Orleans, which showed a terrible mortality. On the 9th of August the fever made its appearance at Greuada, and there was a call arm and body. Hugh W. Willen had a leg provisions contained in the new. Every station and town soon had its quota of refugees from Memphis, who carried with them the seeds of the disease. In less than ten days, by the 24th of August, 25,000 persons left the city, and in two weeks afterwards 5,000 others were in camp, leaving less than 25.000 to face the disease they could not escape. By the 26th of August "shot-gun" quar-

aptines were established at nearly all points in the interior, as well as upon the river; trade was embargoed and travel prohibited. By the last week in August the panic was over in the city. There were then, it was estimated, about 3,000 cases of fever. Most of the white men who were not sick were engaged in the work of relief. The weather was intensely hot and dry, and the city was almost as desolate as a desert. The poor were reduced to beggary, and even the rich accepted alms. White women were seldom seen, and children never, and even dogs, cats, and rats had fled. The bodies of buman beings who had died alone were found in their houses, and some even in the streets. The churches were closed, and the police force was reduced from forty-one quarantine would be established on all the men to seven.
